			thoughts are that the Fund will support scholarly work that helps to extend the benefits of ergonomics to children. Some examples of scholarly work might include the development of a 'classroom ergonomics' module; ergonomic innovations in the classroom and classroom ergonomics research projects. It is anticipated that applications for funding will be reviewed on a yearly basis by a committee of the Ergonomics for Children and Educational Environments (ECEE). Human Factors and Ergonomics Society (HFES) annual conference (September 22-26, 2008) in New York City, New York, USA will include presentations and a panel discussion on ergonomics for children, youth, and students. An informal meeting of ECEE members is planned.
